Frank Beamer

Frank Beamer began his career as assistant at Radford High School from 1969 through 1971. Then, after one season as a graduate assistant at the University of Maryland, he went to The Citadel where he worked five seasons under Bobby Ross and one year under Art Baker. His last two years at The Citadel, Beamer was the defensive coordinator.

In 1979, Beamer went to Murray State as the defensive coordinator under Mike Gottfried. He was named head coach at Murray State in 1981 and went on to compile a six-year record of 42 wins, 23 losses and two ties.

In 1987 Frank Beamer accepted the job as head football coach at his alma mater. Frank Beamer is become one of the most respected and successful coaches in the college football. Entering his 23rd year at the Tech helm, his overall record as the head man of the Hokies stood at 177-89-2. He became Tech's winningest football coach during the 1997 campaign. Counting six years as head coach at Murray State prior to joining the Hokies, Beamer's overall 28-year record was 219-112-4 heading into the 2009 season.

A spot in the Nokia Sugar Bowl to play No. 1 Florida State for the national championship focused widespread attention on Virginia Tech and its football program following the 1999 season. Although the Hokies fell short in their bid for the national title, they proved that they belong among the top teams in the college ranks.

For his part in the Hokies' magical 1999 season, Beamer earned eight national Coach of the Year awards including the BIG EAST Conference Coach of the Year for the third time. In 1997, he was inducted into the Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame.
